

2008 ANNUAL REPORT

Organization for the Protection of Children's Rights

A WORD FROM OUR PRESIDENT

CELEBRATING 25 REMARKABLE YEARS

The year 2008 marked the 25th anniversary of the Organization for the Protection of Children's Rights (O.P.C.R.), a milestone we are extremely proud of. Over this past year, we have continued to faithfully pursue our mission and have collaborated with many partners and experts to improve the fate of children, who have no voice within the political arena. However, despite many government promises, the situation of youth remains unchanged.

It is unacceptable that millions of deprived children suffer across the world each year. Even in a prosperous country like Canada, one child out of every nine still lives in poverty, a situation which entails serious consequences for the future of our country. Poverty is not a new issue in Canada, but the extent and depth of the problem have become a national embarrassment. Although our country prides itself on offering its citizens excellent social services, it has the third highest rate of poverty in the developed world, surpassed only by the United States and Japan.

Moreover, if material poverty is considered a social ailment, psychological and moral poverty is certainly far worse. Young people living in low-income families also face the risks of poor developmental outcomes in their health, behaviour, learning and socialization. It is therefore our collective responsibility to prevent child poverty and the innumerable problems it can lead to. As we embark in a period of economic uncertainty, it is crucial, now more than ever, to come together as a society and endeavour to create equal opportunities for all Canadian children.

We are therefore particularly delighted that, to this day, more than 16,000 children have taken part in the O.P.C.R.'s recreational activities, which were specifically designed for underprivileged kids who do not have access to the leisurely pursuits favourable to their social, intellectual, physical and emotional development. And so, who could remain unmoved by the joy children felt when they experienced moments of magic and received magnificent surprises by participating in our Summer Camps and in our Christmas Shows.

This past year, we encouraged a greater commitment to family laws and policies, as well as to the eradication of social injustices that affect children worldwide. We paid particular attention to better preparing teenagers about to enter high school, so that they can avoid traps such as violence, street gangs, drugs, alcohol, school dropout, delinquency, and bullying. The O.P.C.R. is also very proud of the Kiran Project, which was developed with the help of its Mumbai office in India. This program provides street kids with the basic tools necessary to survive in an environment where exploitation awaits them around every corner.

I wish to express my deepest gratitude towards those who fought, and who still fight, side-by-side with us to improve the fate of young people in Canada as well as abroad. The road that we have travelled over the past 25 years gives me hope that we shall continue to unite our strengths. Without the support of our Board of Directors, our volunteers, our donors, our sponsors and our team, the O.P.C.R. would never have accomplished so many remarkable projects for the love of our children.

Together we will make a difference!

OUR MISSION AND INITIATIVES

Since the Organization for the Protection of Children's Rights (O.P.C.R.) was founded in 1983, its mission has been to protect and defend the rights of children, youth, and families in difficulty, and more particularly, those experiencing problems as a result of family conflicts or the break-up of the family. This registered charitable organization also aims to spread awareness to the population, governments and influential decision makers on the importance and urgency of resolving problems facing children and families worldwide. The O.P.C.R. maintains, now more than ever, that children are the earth's greatest asset and, to secure a better future for us all, we must immediately take steps to ensure their emotional, physical, intellectual and social development.

The O.P.C.R. is dedicated to advancing the cause of family in our society by focusing on numerous phenomena such as divorce, juvenile delinquency, school drop-outs, street gangs, environment, health and family mediation, to name a few. The organization strives to improve the unacceptable situation of children in Canada and around the world through initiatives mainly concentrated on prevention, education and early intervention. To provide families with concrete solutions, the O.P.C.R. develops several research projects, literature reviews, awareness tools, memoirs, and recommendations dealing with the various issues connected to children and families today.

The O.P.C.R.'s active participation in large community, scientific, and social gatherings is regularly solicited. With its involvement in the main debates related to children, the O.P.C.R. endeavours to gather information, solve issues, move towards concerted resolutions within the field, and develop its mission.

In addition, resolved to give impoverished children a glimpse of a brighter future, the O.P.C.R. organizes numerous annual activities designed to help them break free from their social isolation. To date, 16,280 children have participated in the Summer Camps or Christmas Shows.

The O.P.C.R. also publishes Children Speak six times per year, a newsletter offering articles by specialists in such fields as child and parent psychology, law and social intervention. These articles address various national and international current events, as well as problems encountered in real life situations that affect children worldwide.

By continuing to unite our strengths for the greater welfare of children, we will succeed in improving the situation of those most at risk in our society.

EVERYTHING FOR THE LOVE OF OUR CHILDREN!

DESCRIPTION OF OUR LOGO

Justice is represented by a woman holding a scale, with a banner over her eyes. To this logo, we have added an element: Justice holding a child by the hand. Justice is blind and judges without discriminating against race, age, ethnic origin, religion, etc. Just like our organization, Justice protects the rights of children.

FISCAL YEAR

From January 1 to December 31

DID YOU KNOW THAT...?

FACTS AND FIGURES ON IMPOVERISHED CHILDREN IN CANADA

- Despite the Parliament's unanimous resolution in 1989 to eliminate poverty among Canadian children by the year 2000, recent reports show that 760,000 children – almost one child out of every nine – still live in poverty today. (2008 Report Card on Child and Family Poverty in Canada, Campaign 2000)
- Almost one in two Aboriginal children (49%) under the age of six lives in a low income family, and nearly one out of every two (49%) children living in a family that recently immigrated to Canada (1996-2001) lives in poverty. (2008 Report Card on Child and Family Poverty in Canada, Campaign 2000) Single parents and people with disabilities who have children are also at higher risk of being poor.
- A recent study found 39% of Canadians believe they are only one to two pay cheques away from living in poverty. (Ready for Leadership, by T. Hennessy and A. Yalnizyan)
- HungerCount 2008 reports that 704,414 individuals turn to food banks in an average month, and that more than a third of them are children. During the month of March 2008 alone, food banks served a total of 3,091,777 meals, a 32% increase since 2007, though the number of meal programs counted has not changed significantly. (Food Banks Canada)
- To live in poverty in Canada is to be at much greater risk of poor health, violence and a shorter lifespan. It is to be unable to participate fully in one's community and greater society, and it is to suffer great depths of anxiety and emotional pain. (Canada Without Poverty, www.cwp-csp.ca)
- Children's involvement in cultural and recreational activities helps them build healthy bodies and acquire valuable skills, and can also protect them from emotional and social problems. However, about 80% of children from low-income families rarely participate in these types of community programs. (Income and Child Well-being: A new perspective on the poverty debate, by David P. Ross and Paul Roberts, The Canadian Council on Social Development)
- The impact and cost of poverty is not borne by the poor alone, though the poor bear the brunt of it. There is an impact on and cost to society as a whole: greater demands on the health care and criminal justice systems; diminished workplace and economic productivity; and unnecessary, harmful divisions in society based on economic status. In dollar terms, one recent estimate of the cost of poverty, by the Ontario Association of Food Banks, placed that of Ontario alone at $32 to $38 billion – annually. (Canada Without Poverty, www.cwp-csp.ca)

YOUTH PROGRAM

ENCOURAGING YOUTH PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The O.P.C.R. offers a program to students, aged from 14 to 20, to help them develop their professional skills by working in one of its call centres in Montreal or Quebec City. Their experience starts with a paid training and is followed by a flexible work schedule to fit their studies. Although this youth program constitutes many of these adolescents' first job in a professional environment, they learn quickly and feel rewarded by their contribution to their team's success and by the achievement of personal goals. Therefore, they have the opportunity to develop new aptitudes, which will adequately prepare them for the workforce, while also directly contributing to improving the situation of underprivileged children!

INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES

ADVOCATING FOR CHILDREN ABROAD

INTERNATIONAL PEACE SUMMIT IN WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND

In March 2008, Riccardo Di Done, founding president of the O.P.C.R., travelled to Wellington in New Zealand, where he gave a speech on Youth and Street Gangs, a social phenomenon on the rise throughout the world. He shared his knowledge regarding the functioning of street gangs, the reasons motivating young people to become members and how difficult it is to leave them once they've joined. To help avoid these situations, Mr. Di Done elaborated on the actions that can be taken by parents to prevent their kids from becoming attracted to gangs. He also emphasized the necessity of creating a family environment favourable to stability and proper child development, and described the correlation between street gang membership and verbal or physical abuse experienced by its members while under parental guardianship. Moreover, he discussed the importance of transmitting values that are favourable to peace, at home.

Dr. Timi Ecimovic, His Holiness Swamiji, Mr. Riccardo Di Done and Mr. Naginbhai Neil Patel.

KIRAN PROJECT (CHILDREN OF THE STREETS) – MUMBAI, INDIA

In keeping with its mission of advancing the cause of children in this country as well as abroad, the O.P.C.R. continued to support the Kiran Project via its Mumbai office in India throughout 2008. The project, which benefits from the collaboration of N.S.S. volunteers (National Social Service), provides access for the city's homeless children to education, health care and prevention tools – all of which are necessary to their security and development. The Kiran Project not only teaches them how to protect themselves against the exploitation and violence they are confronted with daily, but also showcases their artistic abilities by selling the superb greeting cards they create. These creations are at once a source of pride and a source of financing for the activities in which they partake. The project carries its name very well; it means “ray of light” in Hindi!

7TH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON THE CHILD

This year, the O.P.C.R. team continued to plan its 7th International Conference, which will take place in May 2009 and mark 25 years of service to the cause of children. This important conference, bringing together experts who work with kids on five continents, will shed light on Sustainable Best Practices in Programs for Children and Youth (Youth Leadership, Social Problems and Environment). Its main objective is to identify the most promising programs and the best practices in the area of children and the environment, in order to increase the scope of current projects, and encourage the emergence of new high-quality projects that can help kids around the world. With this objective in mind, the results of the conference will be shared with NGOs, governments, professionals, NPOs and all those who may help advance the situation of young people.

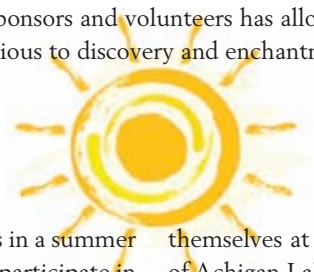

ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN

IMPROVING CHILDREN'S SITUATION WITH CONCRETE GESTURES

Poverty within a rich country is not the only paradox facing underprivileged children. Their exclusion from recreational and educational activities favourable to their well-being on a physical, psychological, social and moral level is alarming. While these ill-fated young people are the ones who need most to learn to live within a community, to enjoy the escape brought by holidays and to feel valued, it is children from superior and middle classes who have access to these privileges.

Consequently, with the aim of improving the fate of these youngsters, the Organization for the Protection of Children's Rights developed activities that allow them to learn while having fun. In 2008, 940 children took part in its Summer Camps and Christmas Shows. Over the years, the generosity of donors, sponsors and volunteers has allowed for no less than 16,280 underprivileged kids to benefit from moments of true happiness, auspicious to discovery and enchantment.

SUMMER CAMPS

Don't all children dream of spending their holidays in a summer camp, surrounded by friends with whom they can participate in a vast array of exciting activities? For children who grow up in the impoverished neighbourhoods of Montreal and Quebec City, where there are very few green areas or playgrounds, it is difficult to even entertain the possibility. To alleviate this injustice, the O.P.C.R. allows underprivileged kids to discover what real holidays are; a unique experience that will brighten their childhood and one they will remember throughout their adult life.

In 2008, 240 needy children from these areas, aged 10 to 12, fully enjoyed summer by participating in the O.P.C.R.'s Summer Camps. In the region of Quebec, 30 children from the Centre Communautaire Beauport and 30 more from the Association des familles monoparentales ou recomposées La Source spent wonderful holidays on June 25, 26 and 27 at Camps Trois-Saumons in Saint-Aubert, near Mont-Joli, whereas 30 kids each from l'Évasion St-Pie X and the Fondation du Centre de Réadaptation Ubald-Villeneuve attended camp from August 5-7. As for the Montreal region, 30 children from the Centre Communautaire Hochelaga as well as 30 from the Centre Communautaire de Loisirs Sainte-Catherine d'Alexandrie stayed at Camp Bruchési in Saint-Hippolyte in the Laurentians on July 8, 9 and 10. Finally, from August 13-15, 60 youngsters from the Centre Action Nouvelle Vie Sainte-Catherine enjoyed themselves at the same camp on the shores of Achigan Lake.

For the first time, these children got a taste of the excitement of challenge courses and canoeing, going for long walks and taking in the beautiful scenery, in addition to taking part in a treasure hunt, discovering the basics of a campfire, enjoying themselves on waterslides and so much more. Apart from the happiness that resulted from spending time in the country, they also received numerous surprises. Thanks to our generous donors and sponsors, the O.P.C.R. gave children essential goods they will continue to benefit from after their summer vacation, such as sleeping bags, clothes, shoes, and toiletries (toothpaste, soap, shampoo, etc.).

Every year, knowing how challenging everyday life can be for these children, the O.P.C.R. ensures these trips allow them to have fun, make friends, acquire new values and satisfy their hunger each day. The gratitude they profusely express confirms the importance of maintaining this activity, a source of genuine happiness for these disadvantaged kids.

ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN

CHRISTMAS SHOWS

Young or old, who can resist the thrilling magic of the holidays? Christmas is not only the most important day of the year; it is also an unforgettable celebration for kids. While the cold wind blows outside, it is so pleasant to be surrounded by loved ones in a cheerful and warm atmosphere where everything smells so good or sparkles. Nonetheless, while prosperous children wake up on Christmas morning to discover an abundance of toys, poor children, on the other hand, find nothing in their stockings and have empty stomachs because of their parents' precarious situation. In fact, although Christmas is a magical time of year in Quebec, very few children who grow up in underprivileged families know what this holiday means, apart from a feeling of exclusion, injustice and lack of love; an unacceptable reality for the O.P.C.R.

It is why, for already 19 years, the O.P.C.R. has organized Christmas Shows to bring hope to impoverished children who, very often, have never had a Christmas tree, never receive presents, and rarely eat until they are full, especially during the holidays; these luxuries are considered extravagant in many households throughout the province. For this reason, December 2008 will remain ingrained in the minds of 700 disadvantaged kids from the greater areas of Quebec and Montreal who participated in the O.P.C.R.'s Christmas Show, thanks to the generosity of its donors, sponsors and volunteers. On December 16, 350 children, aged six to eight and attending La Dauversière in Saint-Leonard, Lévis-Sauvé and Notre-Dame-de-Lourdes in Verdun, were entitled to an exceptional day filled with entertainment and beautiful surprises at the Delta Hotel in Montreal. On December 18, 350 more children in grades 1 to 3 from Du Versant in Sainte-Foy, Saint-Albert-le-Grand and Saint-Fidèle in Quebec, had just as much fun at the Hilton Hotel in Quebec.

From the day's very beginning, the extraordinary arrival of Santa Claus in his sleigh, pulled by nine reindeer, as well as sightings of Mrs. Claus and the Star Fairy, amazed both kids and adults. Everyone in attendance had eyes sparkling with emotion as they witnessed this magical moment. To create a wonderfully festive atmosphere, Kromatik makeup artists painted the children's faces. The kids also took part in arts and crafts workshops and watched energetic shows by the Clowns du Carrousel who, once again, stopped at nothing to amuse the crowd. Sixty (60) volunteers, all dressed up as elves, watched over the children as they were delighted by such great company. The attending mascots also played and danced with the kids: Angus from Industrial Alliance, Bobo from Brunet Pharmacies, Caillou from Éditions Chouette, Champion from the Remparts of Québec, Coco the ladybug from IKEA, Ecolo from the Comité Écologique du Grand Montréal, Flik from the SPVM, Inuk from Télé Québec, Jippy from Métro GP, Krispy Kernels from Aliments Krispy Kernels, Natureuil from Clubs 4-H of Québec, Safety Bear from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Polix from the Sûreté du Québec, Slush Puppie from Monroy Inc., Tac-Tik from the Impact of Montréal, Ti-Ga from Sobeys, Vigile from the Service de police de Québec and of course, Pama from the O.P.C.R.

The personnel from the Hilton Hotel in Quebec City and the Delta Hotel in Montreal treated the children to delicious hot all-you-can-eat buffets, and the spectacular decorations by the craftsmen of Serrano Studio largely contributed to the celebration's magic. Finally, this memorable day was marked by long-awaited presents, as well as by an abundance of entertainment, surprises and affection, which overjoyed the children who truly deserved it!

DIFFERENT WAYS TO CONTRIBUTE

HELP US OFFER OUR CHILDREN A BETTER FUTURE!

The Organization for the Protection of Children's Rights is a registered charitable organization and does not receive any continual funding from the government or other financial institutions. Therefore, it depends entirely on funds generated by its donors and sponsors. Without their support, the O.P.C.R. could not pursue its mission to protect and defend the rights of children and youth in difficulty. However, you can contribute in various different ways and help make a difference in these young people's lives.

SUPPORT A CHILD

For each annual activity designed for children, the O.P.C.R. seeks donors (residential, corporate, religious institutions, foundations, sponsors) to give underprivileged children a chance to participate. Thanks to their generous collaboration, these kids have the opportunity to live an unforgettable experience. You can sponsor a child by contacting the O.P.C.R. by telephone, regular mail, or by visiting the website at www.opcr.org.

BECOME A SPONSOR

Sponsors are essential to the realisation of the O.P.C.R.'s activities, because they allow the organization to offer impoverished children essential goods, gifts, surprises, food, and much more. The O.P.C.R. accepts material sponsorship throughout the year and, more specifically, before the beginning of one of its children's activities.

CONTRIBUTE TO THE O.P.C.R.'s OVERALL FUNDING

While the O.P.C.R. requires donations and sponsorships for its specific events, it also encourages contributions to the funding of its overall activities. Many costs are tied to the other initiatives described in this annual report, such as the International Conference and the Youth Program. Without the financial support of donors, religious institutions, foundations and sponsors, the O.P.C.R. could not help children in our society.

It is also possible to make donations to the organization in honour or in the memory of a family member, friend or colleague. To honour the memory of a loved one, you can ask that donations be given to the O.P.C.R. We will then send them a thank you letter on your behalf, to confirm that we have received their contribution.

LOTOMATIQUE

Lotomatique is a subscription service to the most popular lotteries of Loto-Quebec: Lotto 6/49, Quebec 49, Super 7 and Extra. This program is for individuals who do not have time to check their lottery tickets, who do not want to miss any draws, and who wish to contribute to a good cause. By subscribing to Lotomatique, the consumer does not have to buy his/her tickets, since Loto-Quebec verifies all the subscriber's selections. If he/she wins, the subscriber automatically receives a check in the mail, and a small portion of his/her winnings are sent directly to the non-profit organization of his/her choice. Since its origins in 1977, Lotomatique has given out more than 30 million dollars in commissions to accredited non-profit organizations, such as the O.P.C.R. (accreditation number 306210). The O.P.C.R. does not encourage gaming, but simply desires to offer regular lottery consumers a service which allows them to simplify their purchases while contributing to underprivileged children. To subscribe, you can contact the O.P.C.R. to receive a subscription form or you can visit the Loto-Québec website directly, www.lotequebec.com.

VOLUNTEER

Due to non-profit organizations' very limited budgets, the collaboration of volunteers is essential to ensure the continuity of its services to the community in need. If you do not have the means to make a financial contribution, but wish to offer a few hours per week to a good cause, the O.P.C.R. encourages you to get involved as a volunteer.

The O.P.C.R. is looking for devoted, energetic, motivated, reliable and responsible individuals to help in the organization of its many activities for disadvantaged children. To join our team, you can complete a volunteer form on our website at www.opcr.org. You can also download and print the form, and send it to us by fax or by mail.

Un Noël magique à l'hôtel Hilton

Près de 350 enfants de la région de Québec ont vécu, hier, un Noël inoubliable. Digne des plus grands contes imaginaires, la salle de bal de l'hôtel Hilton avait été transformée pour créer une ambiance féerique.

DIANE TREMBLAY

Sélectionnés par les écoles, ces jeunes de la 1^{re} à la 3^e année, moins bien nantis, ont eu l'occasion de vivre un pur moment de bonheur, grâce à une initiative de l'Organisation de sauvegarde des droits des enfants (OSDE).

Pendant que des enfants attendaient patiemment à la queue leu leu pour se faire maquiller, d'autres lâchaient leur trop plein d'énergie sur la piste de danse devant une montagne impressionnante de cadeaux. Les lutins, mascottes, clowns et autres invités du genre dont, bien sûr, le Père Noël, animaient les lieux.

« Ça fait 18 ans qu'on permet à 700 jeunes de Québec et de Montréal de vivre une journée mémorable qui apporte de la joie au cœur. Dans un pays comme le nôtre, c'est inconcevable qu'il y ait tant de jeunes touchés par la pauvreté », a déclaré M. Riccardo Di Done, président de l'OSDE.

Jessica et ses deux amis étaient absolument ébahis devant tant d'opulence. Les employés de l'hôtel, du chef jusqu'aux monteuses de salles, avaient préparé bénévolement un buffet gargantuesque où des pyramides de pâtisseries menaçaient de s'écrouler à tout moment.

Des hot-dogs au Hilton

Les enfants étaient invités à se servir autant de fois qu'ils le désiraient. Au menu, le chef avait pris soin de préparer des plats que les enfants aiment généralement : dinde, pâtes, hot-dogs, frites, pizza, etc.

L'an dernier, il y a un jeune garçon qui est venu me demander s'il pouvait se servir une deuxième fois. Il mettait de la nourriture dans ses poches pour son frère. C'est là que ça fait mal au cœur. On se rend compte que, s'ils prennent la peine de demander la permission, c'est parce qu'il n'y a pas d'abondance à la maison », a partagé une employée de l'hôtel.

Les mascottes ont bien amusé les jeunes qui étaient tout sourire.

Fidèle à sa tradition établie depuis plusieurs années, l'Organisation pour la sauvegarde des droits des enfants (OSDE) a tenu hier sa grande fête de Noël en faveur des enfants défavorisés de la région.

Pour l'occasion, quelque 350 jeunes de la première à la troisième année des écoles Albert Le Grand, Du Versant et Saint-Fidèle à Québec ont été invités à participer à une activité festive à l'hôtel Hilton.

Animation, jeux, clowns, spectacles, ateliers de jouets, repas et cadeaux ont ponctué cette journée mémorable, rendue possible grâce à une équipe de plus de 60 bénévoles.

Joie et plaisir étaient au rendez-vous pour ces enfants nés dans des milieux moins nantis.

Sur la photo prise peu avant le grand spectacle de Noël de l'OSDE, on retrouve le président fondateur de l'organisme caritatif, Riccardo Di Done, en compagnie de jeunes participants.
